

Every day by midnight starting on December 19th:

Gratitude Journal

A pic with text (100 words) example below:

Who and where

The pic was taken at a baby shower, a moment of quiet celebration and connection. I'm deeply grateful for Kim and Leah as they bring me joy in different ways.

Why you are grateful

Kim brings joy through her steady, thoughtful partnership—through attentiveness, shared reflection, and the sense that I am never carrying life's weight alone. Leah brings joy of another kind entirely: her non-judgemental presence, her complete trust, and her unconditional dependence. With her, there is no performance, no explanation required—only connection.

Together, they enrich my life reminding me that love arrives in different forms, meeting different needs, and that each form is no less profound than the other.

