

August 27th, 2021

Dear Parent(s),

Thank you for entrusting us with some of your child's academic, social, and emotional needs. (We are convinced that these and many other needs are already being met within your family dynamic!) The quest to find a school that accommodates and encourages your child's unique learning style has been long and frustrating. There will undoubtedly be some difficult moments. However, we sincerely believe that EdPlus will be the place where your child will be free to grow and develop the confidence to eventually make a profound and positive difference in our world!

We will do our best to keep our environment safe. We are given guidelines by the Ministry of Education that we must follow. (At this point, all must wear masks in the school building when they are not eating. We will be outside often!) Our air and water quality are both at a superior level. We have in place a serious cleaning protocol. Students and staff will be expected to clean their hands as they come into the school. With that in mind, please forward to us your child's proof of vaccination.

Attached is our school calendar. It is also available on the school's website. Please use the website to check in on your child's homework assignments and to see weekly photos of school events and outings. The school's email address edplusmtl@gmail.com is an excellent way to reach us. If students must be absent, please have them contact us so that we will be able to share academic updates. (We will contact you to confirm that the absence is legit!) We will have a parents' evening, in some format, in October. Our first day of classes is on September 8th at 9:30. It is a half-day that will end at noon.

Your child may bring a cellphone to school. Please do not contact them during class time – students always feel obliged to take calls from parents! If there is an emergency, please call Kim at the school number. That will allow us to manage it at our end in the best interest of the student.

This is an air-conditioned environment. Your child may want to bring a sweater to the school and leave it here if they find the classrooms a little cool.

We wish you a safe, adventurous, and joy-filled end of summer!

James & Kim Watts
